FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

GORES TECHNOLOGY GROUP, LLC COMPLETES ACQUISITION OF REAL SOFTWARE NV

Los Angeles, CA - April 7, 2004 - Gores Technology Group LLC ("Gores"), through an affiliate, announced today that it has acquired Real Software's ("Real") bank debt and that Real's shareholders approved the conversion of the majority of the acquired debt into equity.

Real's shareholders, during an extraordinary meeting, approved the conversion of 157,036,633.13 euros of debt into 150,996,763 new shares. Further, Gores has agreed to make available to Real up to 10 million euros for working capital. The remaining debt of 45 million euros is restructured such that the first interest and capital reimbursement payments are due in June 2006. Gores now controls 83 percent of Real Software.

"The significant investment by Gores will enable Real Software to continue moving forward positively and to accomplish its strategic mission of providing world-class product and service to our customers and the market," said Theo Dilissen, Chief Executive Officer of Real Software.

Ashley Abdo, Group President of Gores, added, "We are excited to have Real Software join the Gores portfolio of companies. Real software is another strategic acquisition that furthers our mission of providing critical IT services and software in Belgium, the Netherlands, Luxembourg, France and other European countries."
